White powder? Never touch the stuff.

Though you may want to rest on your morals for BeautyScoop, a new good-for-you drink supplement developed specially for your skin, hair, and nails.

Just add the veggie-based powder to eight ounces of boring old water and gulp down the shake full of peptides, antioxidants, omega-3 fatty acids, and two types of protein. And unlike your typical health food store flavored vitamin beverage, a hefty dose of vanilla flower makes this sweet and tasty sippage.

Scientifically speaking, BeautyScoop's blend of extra-nourishing building blocks is said to boost the body's regenerative powers from the inside out. And in three weeks, you'll be less wrinkly, more shiny, and stronger in the nail department.

But watch out. It's totally addictive.
